Holdings are representative of Harris Associates L.P.'s U.S. Large Value strategy as of 9/30/25. The investment return and principal value of this portfolio and any particular holding may fluctuate.

Portfolio holdings are subject to change without notice and are not intended as recommendations of individual stocks. Harris Associate L.P.'s U.S. Large Value Composite is comprised of accounts run in the same manner as the Oakmark Large Value SMA and is representative of the strategy's holdings.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Investing involves risk, principal loss is possible. The specific securities identified and described in this report do not represent all of the securities purchased, sold or recommended for advisory clients. There is no assurance that any securities discussed herein will remain in an account's portfolio at the time one receives this report or that securities sold have not been repurchased. It should not be assumed that any of the securities, transactions or holdings discussed herein were or will prove to be profitable.

Investing in value stocks presents the risk that value stocks may fall out of favor with investors and underperform growth stocks during given periods.

The Russell 1000[®] Value Index measures the performance of the large-cap value segment of the U.S. equity universe. It includes those Russell 1000[®] companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower expected growth values. This index is unmanaged and investors cannot invest directly in this index.

The S&P 500 Index is a float-adjusted, capitalization-weighted index of 500 U.S. large-capitalization stocks representing all major industries. It is a widely recognized index of broad, U.S. equity market performance. Returns reflect the reinvestment of dividends. This index is unmanaged and investors cannot invest directly in this index.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The gross performance presented does not reflect the deduction of investment advisory fees. The advisory fees and other expenses incurred in the management of an account will reduce the client's return. The investment advisory fees are described in Part 2A of our ADV. The advisory fee, compounded over a period of years, will have an adverse effect on the value of the client's portfolio. All returns reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains and the deduction of transaction costs. Copies of the GIPS compliant presentation for the U.S. Large Value Composite are available upon request.

Net returns prior to September 1, 2013 are based on actual fees and are net of management fees and administrative expenses. Effective September 1, 2013, model net returns are calculated by subtracting the highest fee of the standard fee schedule from the gross composite return. The current standard annual fee schedule is as follows: 0.75% on the first $15 million plus 0.45% on the balance of the portfolio. Fees may be higher for mutual funds included in the composite. The max fee would be 0.75%.

Investment Risks: All securities are subject to risk, including possible loss of principal. Please read the risks associated with each investment prior to investing. Detailed discussions of each investment's risks are included in Part 2A of each firm's respective Form ADV. The investments highlighted in this presentation may be subject to certain additional risks.
